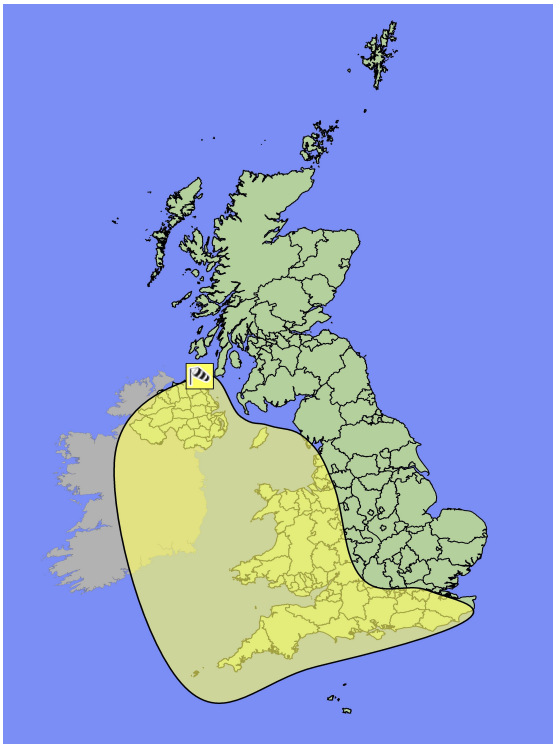
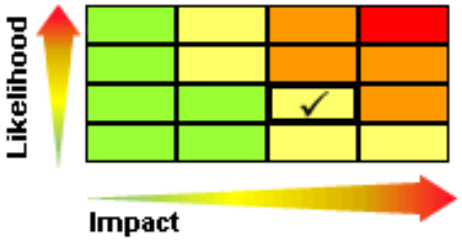
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A very deep area of low pressure is likely to pass close to the north of Northern Ireland with the potential for severe gales or storm force winds to the south of the low centre. It is worth stressing that there is a large spread in the track and depth of this low from other model solutions.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Wind

Valid from 18:00 on Mon, 12th Dec 2011 until 18:00 on Tue, 13th Dec 2011

Western and southern areas of the UK are at greatest risk of very windy weather on Monday evening and during Tuesday which could lead to disruption. At this stage there is a good deal of uncertainty and the public are advised to monitor forecasts over the weekend to keep up to date with this warning.
